COMPLAINT FOR DAMAGES

Come now Plaintiffs, by counsel, and for the cause of action against Defendant allege as follows:

I. INTRODUCTION AND PARTIES

1. This case involves exposure of Plaintiff C.B.S. to toxic aspergillus mold while undergoing brain surgery in Defendant's operating facilities. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's negligent practice and failure to adhere to applicable standard of medical care in the State of Washington, C.B.S. was not only exposed to this mold, but needed to undergo an otherwise unnecessary additional brain surgery with not only concomitant risks, but also

2
3 III. FACTS RELATING TO CLAIMS

4 11. Plaintiff C.B.S. was born on May 7, 2015.

5 11. C.B.S. was diagnosed with an exophytic brainstem mass May 17, 2019.

6 C.B.S. was admitted to SCH for surgery on May 17, 2019 for a craniotomy and C1 laminectomy for 7 removal of the brainstem mass.

8 12. The May 17, 2019 surgery resulted in partial removal of the brainstem mass, with 9 placement of a synthetic duraplasty graft in the brainstem area.

10 13. Postoperatively, C.B.S. did very well. He was eating well and was able to get out of 11 bed. C.B.S. was ready for discharge from SCH on May 21, 2019.

12 14. On the day C.B.S. was to be discharged, he was identified by SCH as being at high
13 risk for Aspergillus mold exposure during his surgery.

14 15. C.B.S. was immediately started on prophylactic medications for Aspergillus
15 exposure.

16 16. C.B.S. was transferred to Harborview Medical Center on May 21, 2019, for removal
17 of the synthetic duraplasty graft due to possible Aspergillus contamination. C.B.S.'s physicians
18 determined that the removal of the potentially contaminated patch would be necessary.

19 17. The second surgery, another open craniotomy, occurred on May 24, 2019.

20 18. But for Defendant's negligence in failing to provide a sterile operating care, this 21 second brain surgery never would have been undertaken.
